Sricity International University

Sricity International University (SIU) is located in Sri City, an Integrated Business City spanning 10,000 acres, home to 200+ companies from 30+ countries, situated 55 kms from Chennai on the border of TN/AP in Tirupati District, Andhra Pradesh. The SIU Work-Study Dual Model

At the centre of SIU Curriculum is a Work-Study Dual Model. The students spend about 35% of their time on campus and 65% of their time in Internship as interns at Industry Partners. Before beginning their Internship the students are equipped with skills required to perform the job at the Industry Partner. While at Internship the Students work along with the Industry Partner's employees as part of their team. The Curriculum is Co-designed with Industry, which keeps what a student learns aligned with what Industry actually needs — so graduates are ready to contribute from their first day at work. Internship is Integral to the Curriculum. A student who completes a four-year degree will have 2+ years of real work experience — the kind of head start that usually takes years to earn after graduation.

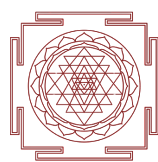

SIU follows the Work-Study Dual Model complying with UGC regulations and Industry requirements. Every course is co-designed by Industry Partners so that what students learn maps directly to what employers actually need. While a standard university academic year is 30 weeks, the SIU academic year spans 48 weeks, combining study and internship. Internship begins from Year 1 itself, and by graduation students gain 2+ years of real work experience and earn a stipend of minimum ₹10,000+ per month.

AI tools are integrated into teaching, learning and work from Day 1.

Harassment

SIU is committed to providing a safe, dignified, and harassment-free environment for everyone on campus. This policy is framed in line with the Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013 and applicable UGC and AICTE regulations.

Scope

The policy applies to all students, faculty, staff, visitors, vendors, contractors, and anyone present on the SIU campus or at any SIU-related location, event, or transport.

What Constitutes Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment includes any unwelcome behaviour of a sexual nature, whether direct or implied, such as:

1. Physical contact, advances, or unwelcome touch
2. Demands or requests for sexual favours
3. Sexually coloured remarks, jokes, or gestures
4. Sharing or displaying pornographic or offensive material
5. Unwelcome messages, calls, emails, or social media communication
6. Creating a hostile or intimidating environment
7. Retaliation against anyone who raises a concern or supports a complainant

Internal Complaints Committee (ICC)

SIU has constituted an Internal Complaints Committee to receive and resolve complaints of sexual harassment. The ICC:

1. It is led by a senior woman officer of the University
2. Has a majority of women members and includes an external expert
3. Maintains strict confidentiality throughout the process
4. Follows the principles of natural justice and a time-bound inquiry

Filing a Complaint

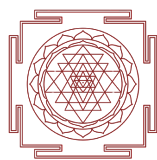

1. Complaints may be made in writing to any ICC member or through the designated POSH email
2. A complaint should normally be filed within 30 days of the incident; extensions may be granted in genuine cases
3. Where the complainant is unable to file directly, a relative, friend, co-worker, or authorised person may file on their behalf

Inquiry & Action

1. Both parties are given a fair opportunity to be heard and to present evidence
2. During the inquiry, the ICC may recommend interim measures such as transfer, leave, or restricted contact
3. If harassment is established, the University will take appropriate disciplinary action — warning, counselling, suspension, or rustication / expulsion for students
4. Malicious or knowingly false complaints will also attract disciplinary action

Confidentiality

The identity of the complainant, respondent, witnesses and the contents of the inquiry are kept strictly confidential and are not disclosed to the public or media.

Counselling: Mentor–Mentee

Counselling: Mentor (Faculty) — Mentee (Student)

Sricity International University believes that academic success and personal well-being are deeply connected. The university's mentoring and counselling framework ensures that every student has a trusted faculty member to guide them through their academic journey, personal challenges and professional aspirations. The system is built on regular, meaningful interaction between faculty mentors and student mentees, fostering a culture of openness, trust and continuous support.

Interaction

Every student at SIU is assigned a dedicated Faculty Mentor at the beginning of the academic year. The mentor and mentee engage in regular interactions throughout the semester, either individually or in small groups, based on the nature of the discussions and guidance required. These interactions create a strong support system for students, helping them address academic, personal and professional concerns while ensuring continuous guidance and encouragement during their university journey.

Purpose of Interactions

1. Monitor academic progress, attendance, and assignment completion
2. Identify early signs of stress, disengagement, or personal difficulty
3. Provide guidance on time management, study habits and internship responsibilities
4. Discuss career interests, skill development and professional goals
5. Address any administrative or logistical concerns the student may have

Process

1. The Faculty Mentor maintains a Mentee Register recording the date, key points discussed, and follow-up actions for every interaction
2. Students are expected to come prepared with updates on their academic performance, attendance and any concerns they wish to raise

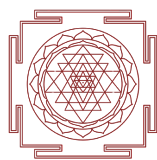

3. Where required, the Faculty Mentor guides students to the appropriate department, counselling support system or university authority for further assistance and follow-up
4. Mentoring interactions are confidential. Information shared by a student is not disclosed without their consent, except where the student's safety or well-being is at risk

Mentoring & Counselling for Female Students

SIU places special emphasis on the well-being, safety, and empowerment of its female students. In addition to the general mentoring framework, female students have access to a dedicated women's mentoring and counselling support system.

1. A designated women faculty mentor is available in each school specifically for female students who may prefer to discuss personal, safety, or wellness concerns with a woman faculty member
2. A women's counselling cell operates on campus, providing a safe and confidential space for female students to seek guidance on academic pressure, personal challenges, relationships, health, and safety matters.
3. Female students are encouraged to report any safety concern, uncomfortable situation, or incident of harassment immediately to their women faculty mentor, the women's counselling cell, or the Internal Complaints Committee (ICC) without hesitation
4. Awareness sessions on personal safety, legal rights, mental health, and women's welfare schemes are conducted periodically for female students
5. The university ensures that no female student faces isolation or exclusion in academic, hostel, or social settings, and takes proactive steps to create an inclusive and supportive environment

Buddy System & Faculty Mentoring

Buddy System

Since SIU is commencing its first academic year, all students join together as peers. The Buddy System at SIU pairs students with one another at the time of joining, creating a peer support network from day one.

1. Every student is assigned a peer buddy from within their program and batch at the time of joining
2. Buddies are encouraged to check in with each other regularly, supporting one another through academic demands, campus adjustment, hostel life and personal challenges
3. Buddy pairs are facilitated by the Faculty Mentor, who monitors the pairing and ensures it functions positively and supportively
4. Buddies assist each other in understanding the academic calendar, timetable, attendance requirements and examination processes as they learn together
5. Buddies help new students become familiar with campus resources such as the library, laboratories, sports facilities, counselling support services and administrative offices during the orientation period
6. The Buddy System operates through the first semester, after which students are expected to be sufficiently settled and integrated into university life
7. Any concern arising from the Buddy System, including incompatibility or discomfort, may be reported to the Faculty Mentor, who will facilitate a reassignment without any adverse consequence to the student

Faculty Mentoring

Faculty Mentors play a broad and ongoing role in each student's academic and personal development throughout their time at SIU.

1. Faculty Mentors meet individually with students at key milestones — semester start, mid-semester review, examination period and internship placement — for a detailed academic and personal review
2. Mentors track each mentee's academic trajectory and flag concerns to the Head of Department where consistent underperformance or absenteeism is observed
3. Mentors support students in setting short-term and long-term academic and career goals, and review progress against those goals at each milestone interaction
4. Faculty Mentors interact with students at important stages such as the beginning of the semester, mid-semester reviews, examinations and internship placements to provide academic guidance and personal support
